PRINCESS HELD BY KIDNAPPERS

RUSSIAN TERRORISTS RESPONSIBLE FOR CRIME.

Eighteen-Year-Old Girl Held Prisoner Somewhere in London—Threatened to Kill Herself to Escape Her Treatment.

London, Oct. 29.—In the hands of kidnapers somewhere in the heart of London, the 18-year old Princess Barbara Lapoukine, of Russia, has sent word to her friends that she is about to kill herself to escape her treatment. Thursday night the Russian embassy has been searching London frantically for the young woman. Now cotland Yard assistance was sought. Thus far not a trace of the lost girl has been found.

From the fact that Prince Lapoukine, her father, was recently the governor of a Russian prison and is known to have angered the revolutionaries, it is believed his daughter was kidnapped by terrorists who seek revenge on the father through the daughter's death or torture.

The princess attended the Aldwych theater with a sister and their governess Thursday night. As they were leaving, the missing girl was snatched from her companions, bundled into a waiting carriage and driven away before there was time to give an alarm.

Alexander Lapoukine will arrive in London tomorrow to aid in the search for his daughter, Barbara. Lapoukine has telegraphed to London that he will gladly meet any expense and accede to any terms to insure his daughter's safe return. The Russian embassy has appealed to the British foreign office to spur the police in their efforts and London is being fairly turned upside down by the fury of the detectives' search. The letter received from the young woman, in which the writer declares her determination to poison herself, evidently was mailed in some part of London distant from the place of her concealment. The entire locality from which it was postmarked has been searched literally inch by inch.

The police theory is that the girl's captors knew the letter was to be mailed and did not interfere with it, either because they propose to use it as a means of extorting money or because they sought to torture the prisoner's friends still further by permitting them to hear definitely of her desperate plight.

The police say the alarm was given so quickly through the Russian embassy, though not at once to Scotland Yard, that they believe the abductors had no time to leave London with the prisoner.

Lapoukine has long been hated both by the Russian revolutionaries and the reactionary black hundreds. He was General Trepoft's right hand man during the 1905 riots in St. Petersburg and has a long record of convictions of political offenders.

Father Marked for Revenge. He is known to have been marked for vengeance by the terrorists. To the black hundreds he gave offense for his part in exposing the machinery through which anti-Jewish outrages were perpetrated.

The search for Miss Lapoukine having proved unavailing up to noon, 15,000 police, including the entire available detective force at Scotland Yard was put to work on the case, and two clues were promptly turned up.

The first was the discovery in a London pawnshop of the brooch which Miss Lapoukine wrote she was giving to "little girl" for mailing a letter to her former friends. The brooch was pawned Saturday night.

The second was obtained through a boarding house keeper, who says an elderly Russian woman applied to her Thursday night for lodging for herself and a young countrywoman, but accommodations were refused because the house was filled.

Visits are being paid to every boarding house in London and every known revolutionist in England is under surveillance. All provincial police stations also have been supplied with descriptions of the missing girl. The conviction is growing that she is the victim of a political crime.

SPANISH RULERS IN LONDON.

London, Oct. 29.—The king and queen and Spain arrived in London to night. They were met at the station by members of the English royal family and Spanish ambassador to Great Britain. The visitors drove at once to Kensington palace.

BASEBALL MEETING

National Association in Session—Rumors of Trouble Fail to Come to Light.

New York, Oct. 29.—Rumors of the formation of a third major league of trouble to be made by the American association and Eastern league unless they are given better protection and the right to draft freely from clubs lower down in classification, of protests from the Pacific coast league against the rule which declares outlaws, players who join a club of the league for the winter season and of a dozen other sensations, marked the opening of the annual meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues held in this city today. P. Powers, of the National association said "national officers had no intimation of the proposed third major league and Harry Pulliam, president of the National league, said every club in the National association will fight such a plan to a finish. Players in the National league who are now playing with Pacific coast league have been notified to withdraw immediately on penalty of being declared outlaws.

The secretary report showed there are thirty leagues affiliated with the association, comprising 340 clubs, representing 244 cities and 4,300 players.

BOY GIVEN BIG JUDGEMENT.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 29.—Charles Stoner, the little lad tied to a tombstone all night, and who, as a result is almost insane, received a verdict of $14,000 against his persecutors in the Stark county circuit court at Toulon. The defendants in the case, Arthur Pilgrim, Earl Latim, Earl Long, Earl Howe, R. A. Harwood, William Earl and another by the name of Sharkey did not expect such a large verdict because of their years, but the jury did not believe in having a boy made a cripple for life for nothing. The original amount sued for was $30,000.

IN HONOR OF MITCHELL.

Shamokin, Pa., Oct. 29.—Ten thousand United Mine Workers are idle in North Cumberland, Montana, and Columbia county districts in honor of President John Mitchell. The collieries were idle and at many meetings prayers were offered for the recovery of Mitchell and urging him to remain at the head of the organization when his present term expires.

Miss Isabelle Smith, member of the faculty of Illinois college, met an affront from a negro Tuesday night, about 6 o'clock, at the corner of South Prairie street and West College avenue. The man made an attempt to jerk the pocketbook she was carrying from her hand, but Miss Smith managed to evade him, and finding himself foiled, the negro ran and was lost sight of in the shadows.

INFLUENCE OF PRODUCTS

CREDIT BALANCE OF AMERICA HELD UP ABROAD.

Immense Shipments to Europe of Great Assistance to Financial Situation—Foreign Money Markets Cannot Withhold Their Gold.

New York, Oct. 29.—The enormous influence American products are exerting in holding up the credit balance abroad was the most signal development of the financial situation today. Reports from all quarters show wheat, cotton, copper, tobacco, oil and meats on their way to Europe. The immediate effects of these shipments is to give the United States credit abroad, which can be speedily converted into cash. These natural resources of the country promise to exert even a greater influence than the sale of American securities abroad. The latter have to some extent been discredited under recent pressure, but the intrinsic value of American staples used abroad and their colossal aggregate at this period of the year is beyond the reach of financial distrust.

Foreign sales of millions of American copper yesterday were supplemented by reports of similar heavy exports in metal to day, shipments alone gaining a foreign credit of $14,000,000. Shipments of tobacco to Europe this year will exceed 50,000,000 pounds of manufactured tobacco for which Europe will pay over $100,000,000, and much of this money will soon be available in this market. Reports from the south show cotton moving toward Europe, while the west is sending grain and meat products in the same direction.

Full specialists of American products, chiefly agricultural, make it difficult for foreign money markets to withhold gold even by the most drastic rising of discount rates. Several favorable events marked the close of the financial day in New York on engagement of $2,000,000 gold by the First National bank of Chicago and $500,000 by a Boston bank brought the total gold engagement close to $20,000,000 in spite of cancellation of an order for $900,000 by Russo-Chinese banks.

While money at stock exchanges was loaned during most of the day at high rates, it fell near the close to 6 per cent, offers of several million at that rate being offered by leading banks. Perfect calm reigned over New York bankers to day. They realized the pressure for money is not over, but felt generally that unreasonable panic was at an end. They would be able to meet all reasonable demands for currency. These demands are coming in considerable amounts from the west and south in order to obtain money to move the crops, and it is feared the sections where movements is the largest may be more or less hampered in efforts to obtain funds.

The arrival of nearly $20,000,000 gold, it is believed, will considerably relieve the situation and perhaps make call money lower on the stock exchange. The decline in stocks to day was generally attributed to continued scarcity of money for speculation purposes, refusal of brokers to make transactions except for cash and absence of buying interests under the present disturbed conditions. Aside from local conditions reports from all points showed a favorable tendency. In New England there was no sign of serious unrest and the recent disturbance in Rhode Island is practically over. No failure was recorded at any point throughout the country. It should be borne in mind in this connection there are over 12,500 banks in the United States and that the number of insolvencies recently failed is of insignificant proportions compared with this total. It was pointed out to day the failure of a minor bank is immediately known from end to end of the country, whereas the public overlooks the fact some 12,500 banks reopen for business as usual and that not one of the really important banking institutions has shown the slightest signs of unsoundness.

EMPEROR'S HEALTH.

GUN CLUB SHOOT

Held at Nichols Park Tuesday Was Success—Rich Sport at Night—Fine Burgoo Soup—Opportunity to Get Some To Day.

Tuesday was the first day of the Nichols Park Gun club shoot at Nichols park which was attended by about twenty shooters from all parts of the country. The local club was very attentive to the wants of the visitors, and excellent, hot burgoo soup was served in ample quantity. James Groves is managing the affairs and the first day's contest proved good in every way. Out of a possible 156 targets, the following was the standing of the shooters at the afternoon result:

High professional—Charles Spencer, St. Louis, 143. W. D. Stannard, Chicago, 138. Mr. Hoyt, St. Louis, 136. Mr. Zeltmeyer, Chicago, 129. E. S. Graham, Inglewood, Ill., 128. High amateur—F. E. Rogers, Macon, Mo., 123. A. Killam, Granite City, 127. O. N. Ford, Mt. Pleasant, Ia., 131. At 8 o'clock in the evening sixteen shooters took part in the contest and the interest was keen. The following was the score with 100 targets: High professional—Chas. Spencer, St. Louis, 81; W. D. Stannard, Chicago, 80. High amateur—Ed Scott, Jacksonville, 73; O. N. Ford, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, 73.

It will be seen that Scott and Ford tied on the amateur score.

The longest run was made by E. S. Graham, Inglewood, Ill., 24. Two hundred targets will be used in to day's contest and the public is cordially invited to see the shooting. Plenty of soup was left from yesterday. A fire has been kept burning under it and any one in the city wishing to procure some will be waited on at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Parties must bring their buckets.

Children clinging to the mother's skirt when the accident happened were so badly injured they will die. A third child, aged 5, was struck by a piece of the stove, the iron being imbedded in its forehead. A fourth child was also struck by flying metal, but will recover.

PUBLIC HEARINGS.

The property owners on South West street had a hearing before the board of local improvement Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, and the property owners wished the board to reconsider their action which will be done at a future meeting. The property owners of East and West College streets also had a hearing in the afternoon when the subject was discussed pro and con, and the board was asked to lay the matter over until a future meeting.

SCALDED QUITE SEVERELY.

Charles Wade, chef at the Grand hotel, while pouring some coffee into a heater Tuesday morning, about 9 o'clock fell from a chair in such a way that the contents of the vessel were emptied onto his legs, from the knees down, scalding him in a painful manner. Dr. Allen King was called who gave him the necessary medical attention, after which he was removed to Passavant hospital. His burns are quite severe and it will be several days before he can be around.

DID NOT LIBEL COUNT MOLTKE

EDITOR HARDEN ACQUITTED BY JUDGE.

Charges of Hideos Orlge Were True—Accused Man Hissed and Attacked by Crowd in Street and Editor Given Ovation.

Berlin, Oct. 29.—Editor Maximilian Harden of the Zukunft was acquitted in the civil court to day on the charge of libeling General Count Cuno Von Moltke. The count was ordered to pay the costs of the case.

Von Moltke started violently when Justice Kern announced the verdict. Then he settled back in his chair like a man stricken by a mortal wound. He sobbed aloud. The justice took twenty minutes to finish reading his judgment. In that time the count seemed to age as many years. A new horror awaited him as his friends helped him, tottering and trembling to the court room door. The street was packed and as he appeared a hurricane of hisses, vile epithets and vituperative cries fairly swept him from his feet. "Oh! I am ruined! I am damned! Would I were dead," cried the count. His friends tried to force a way for him through the crowd. A shower of stones and filth from the street beat them back.

"Down with the noble wife beater, death to the moral leper," screamed the people, rushing at the group. Von Moltke's friends drew their swords, but the count himself covered back toward the entrance to the law courts without an effort to defend himself. His face was ashen, his manner that of a man walking in a dream.

Police quickly came to the rescue, however. Beating back the throng with the flat of their swords they finally opened a narrow lane to the count's carriage. Even then the mob cursed and spat at him.

A detachment of mounted men formed about the carriage, and thus guarded he was driven home at top speed.

Harden, in the meantime, was having hard work to escape suffocation under the avalanche of congratulations heaped upon him.

The moment the reading of the judgment was finished a clamorous group of friends fairly threw themselves upon the editor, lifted him in their arms and carried him from the court room in triumph.

Outside the crowd greeted him with an enthusiasm equalling the demonstration with which Von Moltke had been greeted. His progress to his hotel was a continual ovation and a cheering crowd still surrounds his house.

The sworn evidence, the justice said, confirmed the editor's accusations beyond the shadow of a doubt. Von Moltke, he declared, was unquestionably characterized at least by an inclination toward the shocking immoralities attributed to him.

The court believed there was no question concerning the truth of Harden's charges of hideous orgies among the "Knights of the Round Table," of whom Von Moltke was one. That the "knights" were guilty of a long series of mischievous political intrigues the justice considered fully established.

Harden was plainly justified, the court concluded, in making public the truth concerning the character of the members of the coterie. The public interest demanded it and he deemed the editor entitled to his country's thanks for the service he had done.

MAJOR CALLON CALLED BY DEATH

WELL KNOWN LAWYER PASSED AWAY IN SPRINGFIELD HOSPITAL.

Was One of the Oldest Practitioners at Morgan County Bar—Widely Known as Soldier, Legislator and Advocate—Funeral Arrangements Not Made.

Major William Pierce Callon, for many years one of the prominent members of the Morgan county bar, died Tuesday morning at 6:30 o'clock in Springfield at the hospital in that city, aged 72 years. Major Callon had been suffering for six weeks with erysipelas. Ten days ago he was taken to the hospital from the home of his son Harry Callon, of 1322 East Edwards street. He is survived by his wife and eight children.

Major Callon was a man of marked personality and fine ability. He was a lawyer of the old school and his mind was a rich store house of knowledge. Coupled with his fine mental equipment was the gift of eloquence and few men could make a greater or more persuasive speech than Major Callon. He served his country with distinction in the great civil crisis, made a reputation for himself as a member of the Morgan county bar and was a member of the Illinois legislature serving two terms. Few men could be more entertaining in conversation and of the old school gentleman, politician and advocate Major Callon was a typical representative.

Major Callon claimed the distinction of bringing the first contraband into the union ranks after the issuance of the emancipation proclamation.

William Pierce Callon was born in Bethel precinct of this county and received his early education in the county schools. Later he graduated from Illinois college and was a member of Phi Alpha society. He frequently had an honored place on Phi Alpha reunion programs and it is understood that his last public speech in Jacksonville was made at one of the society love feasts.

After Mr. Callon had completed the course in Illinois college he read law with Judge Cyrus Epler of this city. He enlisted in the army at the time of the civil war in 1861 as second lieutenant of the Fourth Illinois cavalry, and was in many fiercely contested battles, including Fort Donelson and Shiloh.

After his marriage in 1868 he lived in the south for a time, but later returned to Illinois and in 1876 was elected to the Illinois legislature as a representative for Morgan county. In 1878 he was elected to the state senate.

He was married March 24, 1868, to Miss Nannie W. Thornhill of Natchez. To this union were born eight children, six sons and two daughters, all of whom are grown. The daughters are Mrs. Mary Caroline Stone and Mrs. Kate Montgomery, both residing in Mississippi, Mrs. Stone in Natchez and Mrs. Montgomery at the old homestead, eleven miles east of Natchez. The sons are Fred, living in Adams county; Harry, residing in Springfield, and four sons residing in Mississippi.

The remains were taken to the undertaking rooms of Kirlin & Egan in Springfield, and funeral arrangements have not been made. Fred Callon of Adams county, Miss., arrived in Springfield Monday night, and was with his father when he died.

Major Callon lived for years at the end of the pavement on North Main street, but recently he has spent most of the time at his plantation in the south, returning here only during court terms.

Many friends in this city will learn of the death of Major Callon with sincere sorrow, and his associates of the Morgan county bar will miss him from their ranks.

NO MONEY FOR SPECULATION

OPERATIONS RESTRICTED TO CASH BUYING.

Banks Assert Their Influence Determined on Holders of Securities on Margin—Decision Has Effect on Stock Exchange.

New York, Oct. 29.—Banks asserted their influence determinedly in extermination of holders of securities on margin ruthlessly to day for retrenchment of borrowings of stocks. Announcement of dissolution of the bankers' pool yesterday, which had provided funds last week to save the stock market from demoralization, was accompanied by broad intimations the pool had not been intended to bolster up speculation or to attempt anything like revival of strength in stocks by the use of borrowed money. Operations were restricted practically to buying of securities outright for cash.

The lending of money of the bankers' pool last week seems to have been done with the purpose to tide over weakness to save the general situation. Some readjustment is now in progress and some accounts are being forced out that seem to have been carried over last week with this condition attached. The calling of loans was on quite a large scale. With buying demand limited to those with cash resources in hand the effect on prices was not surprising, but was more or less disturbing.

Reduction of loans by banks has its direct influence in reducing the pressure on the money situation, but the policy pursued by banks has in mind wider effects on the situation in attractions offered to cash investment by the low prices of securities. This attraction was operative to day both for home and foreign account.

The purchase of securities here for foreign account is a material factor in furthering the control of international exchanges, which may enable additional imports of gold. It is noteworthy that, notwithstanding famine conditions in the money market, there is still outstanding $5,020,000 government 4s which were re-assessable on July 1 last and which ceased to bear interest on that date. The cut in prices of meat by western packing houses was an incident of readjustment going on to meet a new demand for products. The appearance of some supplies of money at the stock exchange late to day induced some rallies, but the day's net declines are severe.

HAVE FORMED UNION

Mendelssohn Club and Jacksonville Choral Society Effected Merger—Leader for New Organization Not Determined Upon.

At a meeting held at the College of Music Tuesday evening a union was effected between the Mendelssohn club and the Jacksonville Choral club. The union was effected for the purpose of combining in one large chorus all persons who are interested in having a chorus organization that shall be of a permanent nature, and that will not only be an annual musical success, but that will be both musically and financially successful. Heretofore the interest in an ensemble organization of this character has been divided and success has been only relative.

Prof. F. L. Stead has lead the Mendelssohn club for years with marked success and Mr. W. B. Olds has directed the work of the Jacksonville Choral club with equal favor. These gentlemen have agreed to determine the leadership of the new choral society without the membership being involved in the matter and this arrangement is very acceptable to the members. There will be another meeting of the united societies next Tuesday and an election of officers will be held the last week in November.

For the musical interests of the city it is fortunate that the union has been formed and great things may rightfully be expected from the new organization, which has been named the Mendelssohn Choral club.

UNEASINESS IS ALLAYED.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Any uneasiness that may have been felt yesterday about the condition of any of the banks in Chicago, as a result of the adoption of the clearing house certificate plan, has been allayed at least in the greater part by this morning. There were probably fifty people in line through the morning at the Hibernian, but many of them were seeking information rather than their deposits, while at all the other banks there were no more than the usual crowds.

General Secretary Davis and Physical Director Worth of the Young Men's Christian association returned Monday evening from the annual state convention which was held at Rock Island. There were about 350 delegates present besides a great many visitors and the sessions were of intense interest.

Governor VanSant of Minnesota gave the opening address and also spoke at the Business Men's banquet on Friday evening, at which there were seven or eight hundred business men and delegates present from all over the state and from Rock Island. The noted writer and bible lecturer, S. D. Gordon, of Columbus, Ohio, gave seven or eight of his famous "Quiet Talks." This is his fourth season with the state conventions of Illinois and the men never get tired of him.

Other men who addressed the convention from time to time were Walter M. Wood, who is perhaps the strongest association worker in Chicago; State Secretary I. E. Brown who has been state secretary of Illinois for over 25 years continuously; K. Shoemaker, state secretary of Kansas, and E. W. Peck, state secretary of Minnesota. A number of sectional institutes were held, which were addressed by such noted educators as Prof. Hironomous of Eureka college, and John M. Coulter of the University of Chicago.

On Sunday the pulpits of the churches of Moline and Rock Island were filled by the association men, both morning and evening. There was a big meeting for men only held at the opera house Sunday afternoon which was attended by nearly 1,500 men and there were 50 conversions. This meeting was addressed by Evangelist Smith, who is known far and wide as a man of power. There was also a meeting for women attended by about 200 in one of the churches, addressed by J. L. Schofield, general secretary at Bloomington, Ill.

The men in attendance will endeavor to impart some of the information and enthusiasm received at the men's meeting Sunday afternoon. Dr. G. H. Kopper, the president of the local association also was in attendance part of the time.

Opening of the Greatest $25 Coat Sale Jacksonville Has Ever Known

This is indeed a strong statement, but we are prepared to prove it to your entire satisfaction, as we are selling in this sale coats at $25 that cannot be duplicated elsewhere at from $35 to $40. This achievement in Coat values is the result of considerable planning and negotiation with one of the largest manufacturers in the east and only after we had agreed to purchase them in tremendous quantities was it possible for us to secure such unusual values.

Long Loose and Fitted Styles

We illustrate above a number of the long loose styles which are to predominate this season which are made from the finest coating broadcloths and mixtures. These long loose coats with their graceful full lines are shown in a great variety of styles and colorings from the severest plain coat to the elaborately braided and embroidered one. The colorings are tans, reds, blue, brown, castor, black and fancy color combinations. Fitted and semi-fitted coats will also come in for considerable attention and in our extensive preparations we have not overlooked these popular styles which are shown in some decidedly new and novel effects secured by high class tailoring which imparts much individuality to the wearer. These coats are made from materials of only known worth, high class broadcloths that have been treated by an improved process. A full range of the autumn's choicest colorings are to be had in these splendid styles. The linings are of satin in grey, white and black and of a quality that is famous for its long wearing qualities. No woman intending to purchase a coat this season can in justice to herself afford to overlook this wonderful collection which are all priced specially at, each $25

Caracul Coats and Velvet Coats

Caracul coats will make their first bid for popularity this season and have had the stamp of approval in all of the large fashion centers of this country and abroad therefore we have provided an immense assortment of these goods in the stylish form fitting and blouse styles. The chief charm about these coats lies in the odd touches of Persian embroidery which is introduced at the collar and cuffs, together with the very fine imported braids that are used on them. The colors represented are black, browns and greys, and the linings are of satins in light and dark greys also white and black and of an extremely fine quality. To secure a velvet coat of reliable quality at $25 is a matter that has given us a great deal of trouble but at last we have secured several models made from the same quality velvet that usually enters only into the very high priced models and have placed them among our $25 assortment. We cannot speak too highly of these styles as every one knows the difficulty of securing goods of this order at this price, each $25

The ills peculiar to women, take different forms. Some ladies suffer, every month, from dark rings round their eyes, blotches on their skin and tired feeling. Others suffer agonies of pain, that words can hardly express. Whatever the symptoms, remember there is one medicine that will go beyond mere symptoms, and act on the cause of their troubles, the weakened womanly organs.

ROME

ANOTHER LECTURE BY S. W. NICHOLS.

A Splendid Series of Views Showing Places of Interest, Art and History.

(By One of the Audience.)

Another fine house enjoyed the fifth lecture in the series being given by S. W. Nichols on the foreign lands visited by his party. The topic was Rome and the historic structure, fine churches, ancient ruins, noble works of art all combined to make it especially an artists' evening. The audience was taken through the streets, the site of the palaces of the Caesars, the magnificent churches, the Vatican and many other places made famous in story and song. The views of the statuary in the museums were especially fine and the evening was much enjoyed. The next lecture and the last will be Monday night next at 8 o'clock and the subjects will be glimpses of Florence and Milan and the fine works of art, Switzerland and Germany; the magnificent journey up the Rhine, Paris, Versailles, with a few scenes in London. This will be in many respects the most attractive of all.

AN APPEAL.

The women of Jacksonville have not spoken much through the public press upon the great question of the hour whether there shall be saloons or no saloons in our community. It seems as though it is almost unnecessary for woman to speak on the question, for every one knows where she stands. But as the time draws near when the question goes to vote, the Christian women of the community wish to say how anxious they are to see the saloon go, and to appeal to the men to use the opportunity afforded them on Nov. 5th to vote against the saloons.

The effect which driving the liquor traffic out of town has upon the business and revenue of the town has been so thoroughly discussed that it does not need to be rehearsed further. Testimony of hundreds of towns of every size, location and kind of industry where the saloons have been driven out shows their business conditions to be in a state of practical and unanswerable demonstration favorable to the anti-saloon policy. That the question financially and politically is overwhelmingly in favor of the saloon closing is among accepted facts.

Now that the question of the saloon is placed in the hands of the individual voter it seems to the women that the real issue of the hour to each man should become not a business nor a political issue, but a decision whether or not he wished to protect his home. For after all it is upon the home of the voter that the woe and misery and desolation brought about by the liquor traffic falls. The appeal made by the liquor interests that to close saloons will hurt business should after all be as nothing when weighed against the saving of our young men and boys, even were the saving of them to actually cost something financially to the community. What man would not gladly pay a heavy doctor's bill to save his child if he were ill? Shall the same man vote to license a business which shall kill his child, body and soul and plead that the revenue received by the city is his reason for so doing? If enough men vote for the liquor traffic to carry the town for the saloons, certain it is through the law of supply and demand that from the homes of a large number of those who voted for it must come the boys who are to be the food for the saloons. Does any man want deliberately to vote upon his child a curse like this?

Is there any man who would deliberately consign the innocent girls whom he knows, perhaps his own daughters, to a life of shame? If he casts his ballot for the saloons he is apt to wake up to find that he has done just this, for the saloon must have its yearly quota of girls for this purpose. Being no respecter of persons it cares not if its victims are girls of refinement and gentle breeding.

Is there any man who can think of the young boys and young men whom he knows who are yet untouched by the evil of drink who would not recoil from the thought that by casting his ballot for the saloons he becomes a direct moral agent for the downfall of these and scores of others just as innocent? If he votes for the saloons he does so knowing that it must have young men for its horrible grist and that it will reach out and take them with a relentless hand. The young men and boys who will be victimized will not be indefinite men and boys from some town away from here, but men and boys from the homes of Jacksonville—our boys, yours and mine.

And the drinking man himself.—When he is alone with his conscience does he not bitterly regret the money which he has taken from the comfort of his family and spent for drink and the position to which he has fallen in the estimation of his friends? And does he not wish that the temptation which he is unable to withstand were removed from him? Will he not cast his vote against the saloon that the door may again be

Will there be a man who stands before the booth on election day who does not think some home into which drink has brought misery, or of some man struggling against its temptations for whom he ought to cast a vote for safety? Is he willing by casting his ballot for the saloon to add to their woe and misery and the final death of their souls?

We ask the men to think of these things before they cast their ballot on the saloon question Nov. 5, and to think of their moral responsibility before God. There are moments when a man cannot get away from his responsibilities, and the moment when he comes to vote on this question will be one of them. Nor can he evade his responsibility by not voting. The man who does not vote at all is as morally guilty as a man who would see a person in peril and not go to his relief.

Men! We women are looking to you to vote down this terrible evil which has so long hung over our homes and we have faith that you will do it. It will be a day of joy unspeakable to us when we can see the saloon doors shut.

In behalf of the whole Christian womanhood of the community we appeal to you to go to the polls on Nov. 5th and VOTE THE SALOON OUT.

Prevailing Customs

Are generally respected, although they may not always be to our liking. There is some comfort in being "like other folks" after all. THE GIVING OF CERTIFICATES under various pretexts and for various amounts to apply toward the purchase of a piano has now become one of the "PREVAILING CUSTOMS" among piano dealers. We adopt the custom and from this time on are in the PIANO CERTIFICATE BUSINESS. We expect to keep our pianos MARKED IN PLAIN FIGURES at their regular (certificate) selling prices and we ask you to carefully compare them with the prices and pianos offered by others. Each and every purchaser of a new piano from us, at its regular marked (certificate) price, is entitled to apply ONE CERTIFICATE as part pay on same. It is our purpose to be absolutely fair and impartial in this great distribution of MANY THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS (on paper and we will therefore make a uniform allowance of $125.00 for each and every certificate applied as above stated. We accept those obtained through geographical or word of guessing contest or in any other possible manner, without regard to their face value. They may be issued by any person or firm, here or elsewhere, on any date, and may be transferred without endorsement, GOOD UNTIL USED.

A piano certificate worth $125.00 makes a splendid start toward the purchase of one of the many fine pianos to be found on our floors. If you are not already supplied we have a number of these certificates on hand FREE FOR YOUR USE WITH US.

(Let us tell you a secret. We are not giving away a $375.00 piano and therefore, with SOME people, and by SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT, we may do even a little better than the above certificate offer. Step in and see about it.

THE ACTION OF THE BANKS.

The action of the banks of this city is such as should be taken by wise, prudent, careful men acting as the custodians of large sums of money belonging to other people. It should be borne in mind by all that the situation is one demanding on the part of all persons having any business at all to transact simply the abundant exercise of plain common sense, and all will be safe. Restraint of any sensation or hasty action will tide over any possible difficulties that might arise and all will be well in our community.

A few facts should be borne in mind.

The Jacksonville banks are managed by men of strict integrity, complete honor and eminent ability.

All our banks are in excellent condition with good paper and abundant means for all emergencies.

No one need have any anxiety whatever no matter how large may be his deposit in any local bank.

It should always be remembered that banking is the art of loaning the money of other people. We could not get along without banks; business would speedily come to a standstill were it not for our financial concerns. On the other hand they could not do business were it not for the fact that they are enabled to loan a suitable portion of the money left with them on deposit. A banker could lend his own money without any expense of office, clerks and all that goes to make up the profit and loss account on the debit side, but if he has an office from which men may borrow funds he must have a way to reimburse himself for the cost of maintaining that place of business and that is by loaning a safe portion of his deposits.

All the banks of this place are careful and conservative and keep on hand a liberal part of their deposits in case of need. A part of this they have in currency and part on deposit with large banks of the three great centers, New York, Chicago and St. Louis and heretofore it has always been the case that a bank having money in either Chicago or St. Louis could wire for currency in the afternoon and have it for business the following morning, so there never has been any trouble, but just now, for probably a short time, things are somewhat different. Persons having money are timid and prone to withdraw it from deposit on the slightest provocation and hoard it where it can do no good.

The Chicago banks place large portions of their deposits with the large banks in New York and these in turn have much to their credit abroad, and while the situation is not alarming it calls for prudence and foresight. The Chicago banks are unable at present to draw what they wish from their New York correspondents and the latter cannot realize immediately on their European deposits so that some waiting is necessary. The crops of the country are now moving and eighteen millions in gold is on the way to this country from Europe, but it will take a few days to get it here.

There is plenty of money in the country and to our credit abroad, and the only reason for any stringency at the present time is due wholly to the condition of things in the east. The west this time is a lender, rather than a borrower and is safe, and so are all sound institutions in the land, but prosperity and good times have induced many men to inflate, promote and exploit, and the inevitable reaction has come. Many factures have been bought, sometimes two or three combined into one management and property that costs a certain sum has been capitalized at far greater figures and the stock sold to people expecting dividends. These have been paid for a while, but the values were fictitious and what went up has had to come down; the water has had to be squeezed out of these stocks and things generally have had to settle down to a normal, healthy basis, and the settling has caused trouble in many cases, but not in any way to effect safely conducted concerns such as our home banks and the vast majority of the financial institutions of the west and the safe ones of the east with which the west does business right along.

Now the state of the case is plainly this: No person need to be inconvenienced in any way if he has money in any bank and wants to use it. He may draw small sums in cash not exceeding $25 a day. Should he have occasion to conduct any larger transaction all he has to do is to make out his check as in the past. This the man receiving can deposit in his own bank, or pay out as cash to any one. Should the person receiving the check want to send money away he can get exchange on New York, Chicago or St. Louis with the document so there need be no flurry or worry in any way. All is well, the country is prosperous, crops are good and prices are good also. Stock is selling well and the situation is not such as to cause any alarm.

If a man feels unwilling to receive and carry for any length of time the check of a person he can, in exchange for that check get a cashier's check from the bank having the money on deposit and use that as so much currency and it will buy a draft on New Chicago or St. Louis or be received on deposit in any bank in Jacksonville.

This is just what the banks in New York, Chicago and St. Louis are doing and also pretty much all the banks in the country. It is a good thing for it will prevent the senseless withdrawal of large sums of money to be hoarded where they can do no possible good and will keep them in the proper channels of trade. Our home banks are treated by the banks in the cities where they have heavy deposits just as they are treating their home depositors. All are standing together and so will avert what might be a disastrous panic and tide over a state of affairs which might result in evil and thus do the country an immense amount of good.

BUSINESS MEN ON LOCAL OPTION

INDIVIDUAL TESTIMONY GIVEN AT COURT HOUSE MEETING.

John J. Reeve Presided as Chairman and Over Score of Citizens State Their Position on Anti-Saloon Issue.

The circuit court room of the court house was completely filled Tuesday night by men interested in the local option question to hear the discussion of the business men on the issue before the people. Much enthusiasm prevailed and all the speeches were spirited and heard with close attention and frequent applause. Mr. J. J. Reeve acted as chairman and called the meeting to order by a few well chosen remarks. He first called upon Prof. J. H. Rayhill, who gave a reading, entitled "One Day Solitary." Prof. Rayhill's ability has long been recognized as a public speaker and the enviable reputation he has sustained was upheld last evening.

The Grace church choir then favored the audience with a selection in a most acceptable manner.

The following were called upon who said in part:

Dr. C. C. Cochran—"I am willing to come to this meeting and hold up both hands in favor of local option. We are the greatest country in the world and Illinois is the greatest state in the union, and our city the greatest city. We are not going to ensure the saloon men. Some of these men got started wrong. I think more of the saloon keeper who sell liquor over his counter than the church member who buys it over the counter."

L. O. Vaught—"I am in favor of the ballot as it is marked on the ballot before you." Referring to the large ballot on the wall which read, "This is the way to mark your ballot. Shall the precinct become anti-saloon territory?" Yes, X; No, —." The speaker then referred to a conversation from a gentleman of Champaign who showed the amount of business which had come to the merchants of that town since the saloons were voted out. "There is only one good thing that can be said of the saloon, and that is that it brings in $25,000 license money, but this can in no way compare with the money which is spent for charity and other things on account of the saloon. Don't be alarmed Mr. Tax Payer, your taxes cannot be any higher than they are now."

James Brown—"I didn't mean to make a speech here to night. I am here to show my colors and let the people know that I am not on the fence. I will mark my vote 'Yes' next Tuesday."

William Floreth—"I am not a speech maker. I am heartily in favor of this movement, and want to do all I can for local option."

Dr. A. L. Adams—"I am glad of the opportunity to vote on this question. I believe the result will be for the best. I believe our city will be benefited, and our citizens by local option."

W. J. Moore—"I believe this is a noble, just and righteous cause. This is a chance to help the saloon keeper our city and ourselves." The speaker then referred to an incident connected with Murrayville about their concrete walks and the absence of saloons in the city.

W. T. Reaugh—"I am a little surprised in being called upon to night for a speech. I endorse what Mr. Moore said about the concrete walks in Murrayville. I am going to vote 'Yes' on this question next Tuesday."

J. H. Danskin—"The whiskey trust is putting a fictitious business on this city. We are getting bad money." The speaker then referred to the words of Senator Hoar, affirmative spoken on a cause he was championing and Mr. Danskin declared, "that he wished every business man would go forth in the fear of the Lord as did Senator Hoar and vote the saloon out from the principal of the thing."

T. M. Tomlinson—"I am glad we were to have short speeches to night. I am here to show which side of the fence I am on. I'm in for the protection of the home and family. Some men say that we business men are afraid to express ourselves on what side of this question we are. I am for local option and I don't think it will hurt our business."

John H. Ward—"We hear a great deal of greater Jacksonville. I was just thinking of the $200,000 that was spent every year in this city for drink."

The speaker then proceeded to show the number of homes that could be erected from this amount and how that number would increase each passing year and be such a benefit to the community.

Julian Lippincott—"My tongue runs so slowly that I can't say what I want to say in 3 minutes. I shall vote 'Yes' on this question and I want to do all I can to influence others to vote the same way."

John Kirk—"The speaker told the Bible story of the child, Jesus, being found in the temple teaching the doctors of the law. He said 'I am glad to see here ministers of the gospel, lawyers, doctors, men who have power with God. I am glad to see the business men taking a part in this campaign. If my heart stays on my left side until next Tuesday (and I think it will) I am going to vote 'Yes' next Tuesday.

George T. Douglas—"I am heartily in favor of local option. I believe it is right and God is always on the side of right, and we can be assured of success."

J. Marshall Miller—"Just one thought. Jacksonville is essential a school center. Our schools are our business asset." The speaker then proceeded to show the great value the city would have for the students and the influence it would have on parents who are thinking of sending their children here. "Local option is the best paying investment we can have."

J. R. Watt—"Everyone who knows me knows how I stand on this question. I am going to vote for it, and I have a boy who is going to do likewise and there is two votes."

Dr. H. C. Woltman—"I am glad we are in this fight. I am sure we are to have results whether we are victors in this campaign or not, we are bound some day to have the victory. I want to do all I can to help the cause and am glad the moral sentiment is aroused."

William Newman—"We all have reasons why we oppose the saloons. I believe it will take many a temptation away from our young men."

Dr. Edward Lowe—"I am in favor of local option. Nothing can be gained by abusing those who sell liquor. I believe that any man who has any moral sense about him will mark his ballot right on election day. But we can't do this thing by talking about it. We must organize the same as we do in any political campaign. If we don't do this our efforts will be in vain. If we are defeated it will be our own fault. Too many men are not acquainted with the ballot enough to know what the 'Yes' and the 'No' means. Men want to read the ballot carefully. I repeat it again organization must be the watchword, and it must be kept up until every man has been escorted to the polls. Take your neighbor with you. I have voted for two presidents but have never deemed my vote of such great importance as the one I am going to vote for local option on next Tuesday."

Dr. G. H. Kopperl—"I am opposed to the saloon. I agree with all the speaker said who preceded me. I believe in taking the saloonman by the hand after we have voted saloons out of this city and helping him in every way possible to get into a legitimate business."

George Harney—"I am glad this question is up to vote on. I have one vote and I wish I could vote three times or more."

Judge F. E. Baldwin—"From the beginning of this question I have never been in doubt where I stand. The sentimental and moral side of this question appeals to me strongly, but many of our business men can see it only from the financial side. A person who knew Mr. Vernon ten years ago and to day would scarcely recognize the place. By the absence of the saloon the city has grown and you couldn't begin to get the business men to go back to saloon license. Ninety-nine per cent of the tragedies, wretchedness and poverty that I have come in contact with has been the result of the liquor traffic. There is no doubt but that there are good men in the saloon business; it is not the men, but the business. They ought to consider that a favor is being conferred upon them when men are willing to help get them out of such a business into something which is legitimate."

James Breckon—"I think I have said before that I am in favor of a better and greater Jacksonville. I am in favor of a greater Jacksonville without saloons. If I had never been in favor of local option before I would now after being an alderman and trying to enforce the laws."

E. G. Saye—"I can heartily say that I am in favor of local option and will do everything to further the work."

W. C. Howe and James Glothin then spoke and Rev. J. C. Nate of Grace church closed the meeting with a stirring speech and to the point and urged every man to help close the door of the saloon.

Among those who had promised to speak, but were unable to be present were: Mr. McCullough, Judge M. T. Layman, Arthur Hayden, W. C. Green, Thomas Worthington, Dr. A. S. Loving, Dr. G. E. Baxter, Charles L. Hayden, Charles L. Mathews, L. W. Snerly, Thad Eastman, Charles B. Graff, S. B. Gray, E. W. Bassett, W. T. Brown, H. J. Henderson, Thomas Cannon, Mr. Watson, Dr. P. C. Thompson, and Ellsworth Wells.

The next meeting will be held Thursday evening.

STATEMENT MADE BY LOCAL BANKS

OCCASIONED BY ACTION OF JACKSONVILLE CLEARING HOUSE ASSOCIATION.

Local Financial Institutions in Line With Those of Other Cities in Adopting Clearing House Certificate Plan.

The Jacksonville Clearing House association held a meeting Tuesday afternoon at the banking house of the Hockenull-Elliott Bank & Trust company. The following signed statement issued by the Jacksonville banks and the interviews with the officers of the local financial institutions gives the situation in detail: Clearing House Association of Jacksonville.

Jacksonville, Ill., Oct. 29, 1907.
In view of the action of the banks in New York, Chicago, St. Louis and other reserve cities through their clearing houses in refusing to ship currency to their correspondent banks in smaller cities and for the protection of the general situation, the Clearing House association of Jacksonville, Ill., on Tuesday, Oct. 29, 1907, voted to issue clearing house certificates for the purpose of paying balances between banks and until further notice to make no payments of cash in excess of $25.00 on any one day, on any one account of any kind or on any certificate or certificates of deposit held by any one person or persons. Before making payments on saving accounts, notice will be required as prescribed in the rules under which they were received. Checks against banks will be paid in exchange if desired or may be deposited in other banks and will be honored through the clearing house as usual.

Hockenull-Elliott Bank & Trust Co.,
The Ayer's National Bank,
Jacksonville National Bank,
F. G. Farrell & Co.,
Dunlap, Russell & Co.

In reference to this action of the clearing house, Frank Elliott, president of the Clearing House association and president of the Hockenull-Elliott Bank & Trust company, says: "The banks in this region are in excellent condition and have been and are very strong in cash and available funds; but that a large part of the available funds are ordinarily carried with their correspondent banks in New York, Chicago and St. Louis, subject to call when wanted."

"The action of the clearing house banks in those cities in refusing to pay out or send currency to their correspondents in the smaller cities compels the banks of Jacksonville to protect themselves and their customers by this action. They have on hand abundant funds for the transaction of the business of the community proceeding in the usual and ordinary way, and there is no occasion for any serious disturbance in the business affairs of their customers, as checks will be paid in exchange on the reserve cities or may be deposited in other banks in Jacksonville and paid through the clearing house in the ordinary and usual way, the banks having arrangement to settle balances between themselves by use of clearing house certificates."

"This action of the banks to protect the cash reserve is for the benefit of all their depositors and to prevent a few who might be timid and uneasy from drawing out their balances and depleting the cash reserves of the banks when they do not need the money for any business purposes, but only to hoard the same and thus prevent the banks from providing for the wants of other customers who may have real need. It is anticipated that financial matters in the cities and reserve centers and over the country generally will adjust themselves shortly so that such precautionary measures will not be longer necessary."

"If the bank customers will adjust their affairs in conformity with this action of the banks and aid the banks in carrying out these precautionary measures it will be a great benefit to the community and will help to more speedily bring about a condition when such measures are not necessary."

A. L. French, president of the Ayer's National bank, said: "The action taken by the Clearing House association today was only decided upon after mature deliberation by the representatives of the various banks."

"In my judgment it was the wise and conservative method of handling the situation. It may inconvenience a few until they can adjust themselves to the situation; but in the end it will prove beneficial to the community at large. The banks in Jacksonville are exceptionally strong in cash resources and it will be only a

Bondsmen Superseded

The personal bondsman is fast becoming obsolete; the risk to private fortune is too great.

The corporate bond is just as rapidly supplanting the old form; and, in time, men will marvel that they were ever called upon to incur the danger of personal suretyship.

In point of safety, convenience and propriety, there can be no comparison between the two; the one is just as weak and perilous as the other is strong and safe.

The time is near when it will be thought as reasonable to borrow the key of a friend's safe as to borrow his name for surety purposes.

TURNER HALL PROPERTY SOLD

U. G. WOODMAN IS PURCHASER FOR CONSIDERATION OF $4,500

Will Be Used for Folding Paper Box Factory—Sale Marks Passing of Turnverein Society Which Was Organized in 1858.

U. G. Woodman purchased the property known as Turner hall situated on the corner of North Main street and East North Tuesday from the trustees of the Turnverein of Jacksonville. The consideration was $4,500 and the property is 110 by 110 feet. Mr. Woodman will make some material changes in the property. It will be used primarily for a box factory, the article of manufacture being folding paper boxes, of which Mr. Woodman is the patentee. The factory will employ about fifteen persons and Mr. Woodman hopes to be ready for operation January first.

Four store rooms will be built on North Main street that will have a width of twenty feet and a depth of sixty-five feet. It is the intention of Mr. Woodman eventually to install a large bread oven in the rear of the building and he will leave a street entrance to the bakery on the North street side.

Jacksonville will welcome the addition of this new industry and the changes contemplated will certainly make a marked improvement in the property.

History of Turnverein. With the purchase by Mr. Woodman passes out of existence an organization whose birth dates back to 1858. The following sketch of the Turnverein is taken from Historic Morgan:

"The Turnverein was organized Feb. 3, 1858, with seven members, Philip Braun, H. Lomb, L. Well, Nat. Neuman, Fred Fries, M. Rosenbach and H. Filtzberger. They first met in a barber shop under the Park house, afterward in a hall on a lot now owned by Mrs. Fay. The membership increased until the war, when by volunteering it was reduced to six. After the war it grew again and in a time moved to its present quarters on North Main street, which was bought for $6,500 and improved at a cost of $3,000. The present membership is 30. Meetings take place the first Sunday of each month. Officers are elected in June and December. This society belongs to the National 'Bund' and has for its object the relief of needy and distressed members, as well as the practice of gymnastics. Its present officers (year 1885), are: President, A. Miller; vice president, L. Leurig; treasurer, H. Engel; treasurer of the sick fund, John Schaefer; secretary, Philip Schultz; teacher of gymnastics, William Kempf; warden, H. Brune."

Turner hall, as this place has commonly been known for years, has been the scene of many festivities and in recent years the building has been used for occasional dances, skating rink purposes, etc. The Turner hall dances were quite famous in their day and the annual Turner hall celebrations were always events anticipated by many with sincere pleasure.

Among the present members of the Turnverein are John Schaefer, Herman Weber, Herman Mehner, Fred Ratz, Charles Meder, who is now in California, and Charles Schultze of Texas.

RECEPTION TO PASTOR.

Rev. C. R. Morrison of Brooklyn Church Welcomed by Members of His Congregation.

Scrimger gave a short address of welcome to which the pastor, Rev. Mr. Morrison, very pleasantly replied. Rev. William Phillips favored the company with a solo and the remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in a social way. Light refreshments were served.

The last meeting of the Country Club Bridge Whist organization was held Tuesday night at the club and the evening was a delightful one in every way. There were a large number present and the prize for the month was won by Walter Watson. It was a sterling silver bon bon dish.

WOMEN IN HOSPITALS

Experiences of Mrs. Rockwood and Miss Tierney

MISS MARGARET TIERNEY

MRS. CHAS. A. ROCKWOOD

A large proportion of the operations performed in our hospitals are upon women and girls for some organic trouble.

Why should this be the case?

Because they have neglected themselves, as every one of these patients in the hospital beds had plenty of warning in those dragging sensations, pains at left or right of abdomen, backaches, nervous exhaustion, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, and other organic weaknesses.

All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the female system and if not heeded the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation. When these symptoms manifest themselves, do not drag along until you are obliged to go to the hospital and submit to an operation—but remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, has saved hundreds of women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured more cases of feminine ills than any other one remedy. Such letters as the following are constantly being received by Mrs. Pinkham to prove our claims.

Mrs. C. A. Rockwood, teacher of Parliamentary Law, of 55 Free St., Fredonia, N. Y., writes:

"For years I suffered with female trouble. It was decided that an operation was necessary, and although I submitted to a serious operation my sufferings continued, until Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and it proved a marvelous remedy, so quickly did it restore my health. I cannot thank you sufficiently for the good it has done me."

Miss Margaret Tierney, of No. 328 W. 25th Street, New York, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"When only eighteen years of age our physician decided that an operation was necessary to permit of my womanly organs performing their natural functions. My mother objected and being urged by a relative to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did so. I soon improved in health, the proper conditions were established and I am well and strong, thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

No other remedy has such unqualified endorsement as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No other remedy in the world has such a record of cures of female ills.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Out of her vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that may help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

Mrs. Busley Moore returned Tuesday noon from a visit with her son, Walter, at Moorehead, Miss. There, with true southern hospitality, the people had a bonfire of one of their railroad stations the evening after the lady's arrival, and she was permitted to ride from the woods on a "dinky" tram engine, which swayed every which way over the bonfire laid fire. She also enjoyed a ride behind a mule team, which was safer, if less exciting. The Jacksonville colony of Terrys, Elkins and W. W. Moore were all happy and contented.

ATTEMPTED TO CROSS BY FORCE

SERIOUS CONDITION DEVELOPED AT EAST STATE STREET CROSSING.

Street Car Employees Spiked Switches and Were at Work When C. P. Engine Arrived—Ready to Run Blockade When Notice of Dissolution of Injunction Was Received.

An acute situation arose last night about 11 o'clock at the East State street railroad crossing when the Jacksonville Railway & Light company attempted to cross the C. P. tracks by force. About 10:45 a force of fifty men representing the Jacksonville railway company went to work to effect the crossing. The engineers in charge, Superintendent Doan, Superintendent Hoskins, motormen, conductors and section men were all drafted into the service. Agent White, of the C. P. & St. L., was on the watch for the coup and at once notified the officials in Springfield. Orders came back to prevent the work and block the crossing. Mr. White at once notified T. C. Rogers, foreman at the C. P. shops, Arthur Mathews, yardman and Mr. McNamara, assistant cashier of the local office. The switch engine was sent from the shops. Meanwhile the big force of car employees had spiked the switches in the yards and were at work laying the crossing. When the switch engine arrived, on the scene the engineer found that his progress was checked by the spiked switch. Agent White ordered the engine back for a string of empties with which to run the blockade and if possible pile up the cars in a tangled mass over the crossing. Again the force became active and ties were piled on the track to impede the cars.

Just as things were assuming a hideous stage, and as the switch engine and empties were returning from the round house, Agent White received orders to desist as the injunction had been dissolved by Judge Shirley and the Jacksonville Railway and Light company would be permitted to cross without molestation or interference. The court held that when the railroad and warehouse commission gave the Street Car company the right to cross the Alton and Burlington tracks, they evidently intended to give them the right to cross the C. P. & St. L. tracks which are between these two lines. The court further held that in the case in question, the C. P. tracks were not main tracks.

The message to the local C. P. agent was received just in time, as he had issued orders to come against the obstructing ties at the rate of thirty miles an hour, and if the "bump" had been made, wreckage would have been piled high enough to block traffic for many hours.

The street car force had their work practically completed by the time the message of the dissolution of the injunction reached here. About 12 o'clock a car was run over the tracks, and over the extension, and about 12:15 officials of the road who reside in the west part of the city were taken home in the Owl car.
